Some woman has written a letter to the Sacramento Bee in which she indicated that state or federal aid is providing art courses for the Japs in concentration camps in the country and quite pointedly proposed that it be discontinued. In this we concur 100 per cent. If this aid is being given we firmly believe it is a miscarriage of justice. We are naturally a big, good-hearted, easy-going nation that leans backward to do the democratic thing, but when we consider the reported treatment given our boys in Bataan, Japan and other countries temporarily held by the Jap, we can readily agree with the good woman's point of view. The very fact that the Japs are allowed to live unmolested in comfortable quarters and with ample food and medical care, seems more than plenty to us.

Recently 150,000 young rainbow trout were planted in the Truckee river, between Donner and Prosser creeks, a fine crop for next year's sportsmen if they are permitted to grow. However, we met a fisherman the other day who had a limit of those little fellows ranging in length up to five inches. He was quite proud of his accomplishment and there is no law against his catch, but in fairness to other sportsmen and the interests of the district, it should at least be an unwritten law not to take fish under seven inches long.

Your chamber of commerce is attempting to provide a recreational center for the soldiers in this area. We believe that the project merits the unanimous support of the entire community. Nothing elaborate non prohibitive financially is contemplated, just a modestly furnished room which the boys can call their own and in which they may feel privileged to read, write or whatever they desire under the circumstances. We should, collectively, see that such an establishment is provided, not alone for the soldiers but as an asset to the town.

Thirty-five miles an hour is not very fast, but unless it is an emergency it will get you there in time, so please cooperate with your government and keep under 35. It will be tough, but it will be worth the effort.

We are still advocating the cleaning up of the main thoroughfare even after more than six years, during which time we should have gotten used to the debris which blows back and forth these early fall days.

OLD HOBART MILLS ENGINE LEAVES TO SERVE UNCLE SAM

Another, and one of the last of the old Hobart Mills relics—Engine No. 4 of the Hobart Southern Railroad, this week takes its place in the war effort.

The old engine, built by the Baldwin Locomotive Company in 1901 for the Hobart Southern has been sold by the Los Angeles Iron and Steel Company, to the government and was taken to Sacramento for reconditioning before going into active service.

The engine is in good condition, according to Harry Lansberg, of the selling concern, and weighs 45 tons. It saw nearly 40 years of service on the Truckee-Hobart fun before the company disposed of it along with the rest of the Hobart holdings five years ago.

Dolley to Return After Opening Express Office At Hawthorne, Nevada

N. F. (Tom) Dolley, Truckee Railway Express agent, left yesterday morning for Hawthorne, Nevada, to assist the company in opening the express agency there. He will return to Truckee in ten days to resume his duties at the local office and to continue in his duties as local peace officer.

Dolley is a candidate at the November 3 election for constable and wishes to make it clear that his visit to Hawthorne to assist his company is not by any means to be considered as permanent, although a permanent position there at a greatly increased salary was offered him.

Rilea W. Doe

District Governor Of Rotary To Be Here On Monday

Humorous Lecture Feature Of Ladies' Night Program

The Truckee-Tahoe Rotary Club Monday, October 5, will welcome Rilea W. Doe, governor of district 105 of Rotary International, which includes 48 Rotary Clubs in Nevada and California. Doe is vice president of Safeway Stores, Inc., of Oakland and a member of the Oakland club. Doe will visit the local club to assist President L. A. Greene, Secretary G. E. Hofmann and the committee of the club on matters pertaining to club administration and service activities.

Following the Rotary meeting, Doe will give an inspiring talk and the public is invited to be present after 8:30 o'clock to hear him.

A large crowd attended the annual ladies night program of the Truckee Tahoe Rotary Club Saturday night at Capitol Hall where Max Horwinski, past president of the Oakland club entertained with his humorous stories. His subject was "The Science of Properly Raising Children." He had his audience in constant laughter.

Mrs. J. Wolert had her rhythm band give two numbers which were well received.

After the dinner and program over which Lloyd Greene presided with Theodore Schleuter as program chairman, dancing occupied the evening. The Loyalton Club was well represented.

Wedding Trip Results In Two Accidents As Motorcycles Crack Up

A most exciting wedding trip that was featured by two accidents and the wrecking of two motorcycles may be related by a group of six young men and the two brides this week.

The youngsters, ranging in age from 16 to 18, according to officers, were returning home from Reno Monday morning and stopped here for breakfast. Thomas D. Reynolds, 18, one of the group, borrowed the motorcycle of his friends and just east of Truckee skidded and overturned, receiving some severe cuts and a badly injured left leg. He was treated by Dr. J. H. Bernard and placed in the W. H. Laity ambulance for his trip to his home in Oakland.

The two young brides, whose names were not immediately learned, rode with him, their husbands taking one of the motors to return home.

As the ambulance neared Roseville the wreck of the second motorcycle was seen along the road and inquiry found the two bridegrooms being patched up in a doctor's office. They later were placed in the ambulance.

Near Dixon, the group stopped and shortly thereafter, the third motor, with its two occupants arrived.

"Please take it easy," Laity warned "the ambulance is full now."

The rest of the trip was uneventful unless the parents may have added to the troubles later.

Project Started To Provide Hall For Service Men

Chamber of Commerce To Sponsor Move To Provide Shelter

The Truckee Chamber of Commerce last week undertook the project of arranging for the establishment of a community operated and maintained recreational center for service men stationed in this area. F. W. Gaiennie volunteered to interview owners of unoccupied main street structures in an effort to get a desirable location.

The soldiers themselves suggested the plan and representatives attended the chamber meeting to explain their hopes.

It is proposed to establish a room where the men may rest, read or write and otherwise occupy themselves while in Truckee. Gaiennie reports that he has prospects for the location, although the financing is a matter to be given further study.

The U. S. O. which normally takes care of recreational facilities for the soldiers is unable to provide the required place because there are insufficient men to justify the expense incurred under their setup.

Possibility that the two service clubs and other organizations may be able to handle the financial details is under consideration. It is hoped to have the program ready for operation. Mrs. Frank Gaiennie, president, will be program chairman and refreshment hostess at the meeting of the Wyethia Women's Club this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Discussion of plans to entertain teachers attending the institute here on the afternoon of October 6 will occupy the group.

Mrs. Rufus Gregory was program chairman September 17 when games were enjoyed. Mrs. W. M. Englehart, Sr., and Mrs. Humbert Chardella were hostesses for the evening. The members are urged to renew their interest following the summer vacation and are requested to attend today's meeting.

ART EXHIBIT WILL BE FEATURED HERE

An art exhibit will take place at the grammar school during the Nevada County Teachers' Institute next week. Several fine designs, landscapes and portraits have been sent to Truckee through the courtesy of the San Francisco State College Alumni Association. The exhibition will be open to the public at times when teachers are not in conference.

RETURNED FLIER TELLS OF HORRORS OF PACIFIC FIGHTS

Mrs. Robert Luck went to San Francisco on September 25 to greet her son, Vernon S. Brewster, naval aviation pilot, who was wounded in recent action after he "got his man" and who is scheduled for a medal of valor.

Brewster made a record trip from Australia and spent several days at the home of his sister, Mrs. E. S. Dutton of Woodland before continuing to Truckee where he visited with Mr. and Mrs. Luck.

He has been in the service for 15 years and has more than 12,000 hours of combat flying to his credit. He was deeply regretful that so many people on the main land have such a complacent attitude of the war, despite the horrible atrocities which have been performed on helpless women, children and men in and out of military service by the Japs. He said that the enemy is plenty tough and not to be overlooked even by the people sitting snugly at home and doing nothing to help an early victory.

The former Woodland man left for the south to continue his duties.

Assisting on Patrol—

State Patrolman Andy Ponta or Downieville is working in Truckee this week assisting in local patrol work.

MY PLACE IN THE SUN

By PVT. DOUG BARRETT

This Chanute Field is quite a place and new wonders unfold every day. The other day I discovered one darned fine library and in said library I found out why Camp Kearns was so called. Nobody at Kearns knew but here in Illinois in a WPA writers' project Guide of Utah it was disclosed. It seems as though this man Kearns was a self-made millionaire who went to Utah as a young man, struck it rich, was elected to the U. S. Senate and became publisher of the Salt Lake Tribune, dying in 1918. This library also has a fine selection of the latest best sellers and way down in the non-fiction shelf is a series of books—about a shelf long—on Japan by the Japanese. It leaves one wondering if such a thing is going on in the land of the setting sun. Which means I've found a spot of refuge.

And just to show that there's nothing left out for our cultural uplift and entertainment, besides the movies and occasional dances, we have organ recitals, band concerts, classical recording hours, lectures on various topics, etc., going on in the post every evening.

Speaking of movies, I'd like to take time out to pay the industry a tribute. All you folks know the fine work they are doing in the War Bond campaign. Well, that's only the beginning. Since I've been in the army I've seen many training films in which the actors and actresses didn't get a line of credit. The films covered every subject from military courtesy to venereal diseases. Such stars as Paul Kelly, Walter Huston, Samuel Hinds, Eddie Bracken, Donald Wood, Ginger Rogers ad infinitum. The movie industry really deserves your support for the fine work it's doing.

I'm sorry I missed Bert Weeden in Salt Lake but I didn't know he was there until I got to Chanute.

HUNTING STILL IS REPORTED GOOD IN THIS DISTRICT

Although the number of hunters in this area has decreased somewhat over the first two weeks, those still hunting report good success in all fields. Hundreds of deer have been checked through Truckee and while many are small, all are in excellent condition.

The hunting in the district is reported much better than in recent years, with many more hunters coming here because of the closed areas in other sections of the state.

Both fishing and hunting are expected to remain good until the close of the season on both October 15.

Chico Couple Arrested Here By Local Officer

DRUNK DRIVER GETS JAIL TERM HERE

Eliscio Campbell, 44, Sparks, was sentenced to serve 25 days in the county jail when he appeared before Justice of the Peace C. E. Smith this week charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Campbell was arrested by state highway patrolmen after the light truck he was driving overturned two and a half miles east of the quarantine station, injuring A. Cervantes, who was treated for cuts on his face. Campbell had been working for a commissary company in Nevada.

Vesta Maxwell, Injured In Car Crash, Expires

Injuries Last Month Prove Fatal To Wife of Local Man

Mrs. Vesta Maxwell, 52, of Sacramento, wife of George Maxwell, who has been employed for several years in Truckee by the Southern Pacific, died early this week in the Washoe General Hospital in Reno from injuries suffered in an automobile accident at the west end of Donner Lake on September 14. The body was taken to Sacramento for funeral services.

Mrs. Maxwell was one of the six persons injured in the accident. Her husband had been transferred to the S. P. hospital in San Francisco with a fractured hip and is reported to be recovering nicely.

Others who were in the car are Mrs. Nida Geitner, a daughter and driver of the machine and her husband, Chester Geitner of Eureka. Both are recovering in the Washoe hospital.

In the second car were Mr. and Mrs. John Gnafskis of Sacramento. Mrs. Gnafskis is recovering and her husband, who was charged with driving on the wrong side of the highway by state patrolmen, was not injured.

Mrs. Maxwell, the former Vesta Clements was a native of Sierraville. She had lived in Plumas county and at Emigrant Gap before going to Sacramento, to reside in 1926.

Besides her husband, she leaves a son, William L. Maxwell and a daughter, Helen Arda Skates of Sacramento and Mrs. Geitner, a daughter of Eureka.

ON THE NEWS FRONT

Growing Fury of Allied Bombings Portend Bad Days Ahead for Nazis

With terrible vengeance, Allied wings of destruction-bearing fury are unloading tons and tons of bombs on vital Nazi war production centers.

Not only has Goering—Hitler's medal bearing, pompous Luftwaffe commander—seen how wrong he was in boasting, shortly after Dunkerque, that never would a single bomb be dropped on Germany's vital Ruhr district, but also the people of Germany are learning how it feels to have the war carried into their own backyards, their homes.

When the Nazi air force bombed over London on September 15, 1940, 1,200,000 pounds of bombs were unloaded. A month later to the day Coventry was destroyed with 680,000 pounds of Nazi bombs. As a result of the terrible destruction inflicted on that town, "coventrize" was a word coined to describe almost complete annihilation. Those attacks seemed to be the climax of all that Hitler said would happen.

Then came the RAF's turn. Then came the time for the Nazi war industries to be smashed, blasted, destroyed in town after town. On March 28, this year, Lubbeck, in north Germany, a town of close to 130,000 people, was almost completely leveled by the RAF. In this raid 700,000 pounds of bombs were released.

Two months later, May 30, Cologne was "visited." In this attack over five times the amount of bombs dropped on London were sown over Cologne. When the last British plane had departed over 6,700,000 pounds of incendiaries and explosives were left behind.

With American planes flying in formation with the British, the words of Winston Churchill, "Now it is the other way round," have an ominous portent for those industrial and armament producing centers of Naziland.

Of course the above mentioned super-raids on the Reich are outstanding because of their enormity. But time and time again heavy bombings of important Nazi naval, armament, and raw war material centers have taken place. Today the Ruhr district has been bombed hundreds of times. There seems to be no probability of any letup.

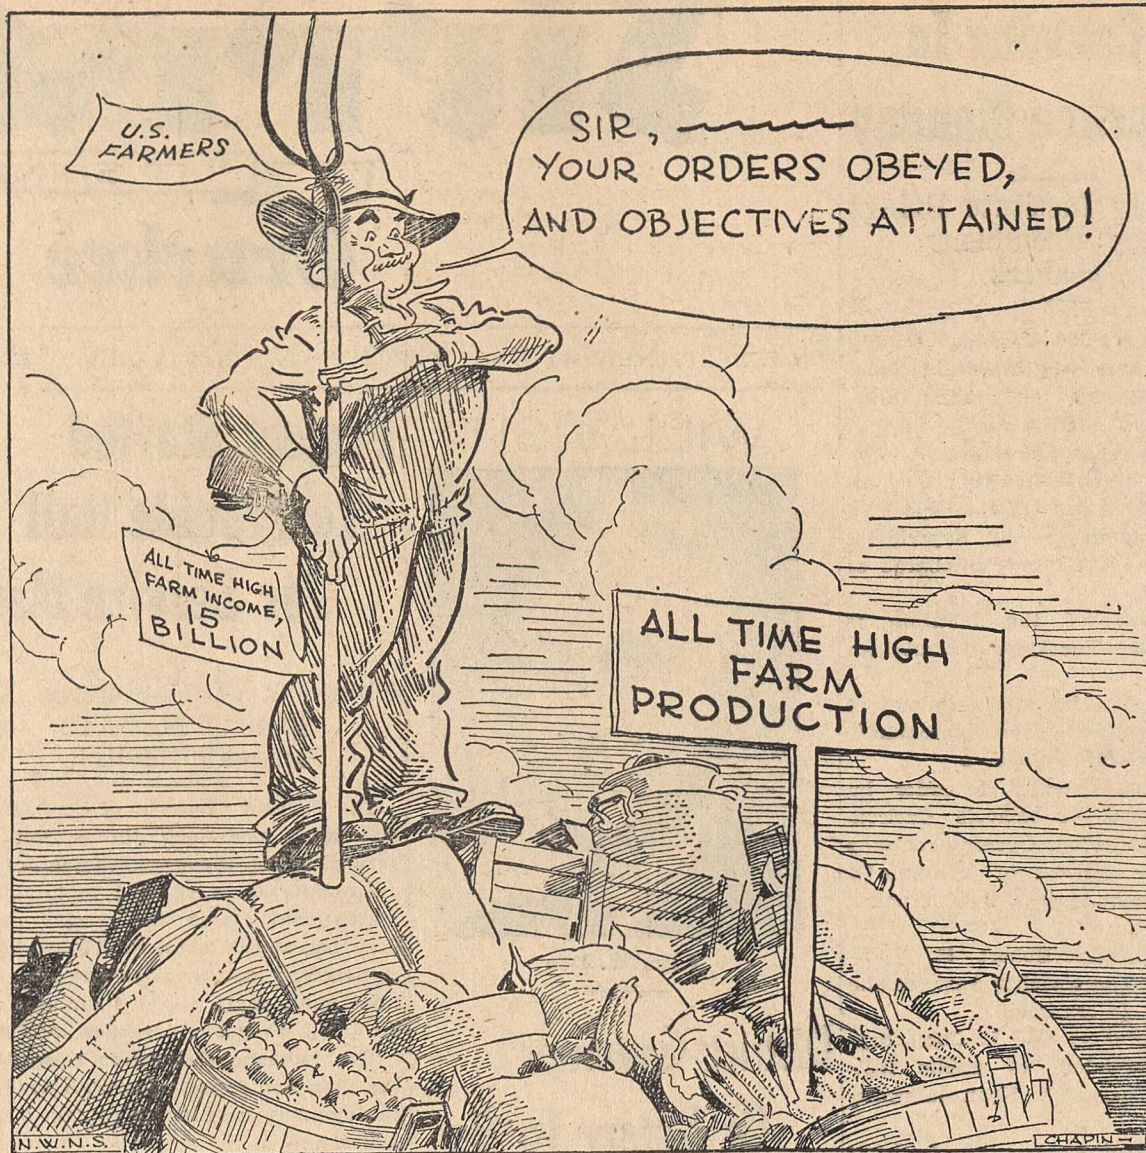

In fact the accumulating air might of the United Nations points the way to the 11,000,000 pound, or more, raids which have been hinted at repeatedly by those carrying the war to the greater Reich.

With the German air force being continually occupied by the hard-fighting Russians on the eastern front (where many of Hitler's reserve planes presumably are being saved for later offensives have been used and destroyed) the balance of air power is clearly swinging away from the Nazis in the west.

Gradually the zone of air initiative by Allied airmen is moving inland from the coast, eastward across Germany toward the heart of that land. The possibilities of a complete air mastery over all of Germany by the Allies is definitely not as phantastic as it formerly sounded.

Such a complete control of the air is one of the necessary steps which must be achieved and used to complete advantage before the actual invasion of the continent takes place.

WAR JOB FOR CHILDREN

The plan for putting the 30,000,000 school children of this nation to work on the salvage campaign is apt to be the step which will make a big success out of a campaign which so far has been very disappointing in its results.

Our adult population has been made well aware of the nation's need for scrap and we realize that the winning of the war may depend on turning in enough scrap. But many people continue to postpone doing anything much about it.

But when the enthusiasm of school children is injected into this campaign the whole attitude toward scrap is apt to change. If they can't do it any other way, the children will shame us into making that long-postponed scrap hunt.

If the plan for putting this job in the hands of school children is carried out intelligently—if they have goals to shoot at and awards for outstanding performance—there is little doubt that even those children who don't know what the war is all about will see the job is done in record time.

CUTTING DOWN ON DELIVERIES

Until the war is over, unusually fast delivery service by stores should no longer be looked upon as a sign of an outstanding merchant.

All stores which use delivery trucks have been ordered to conserve them to the limit, since there will be no more such trucks available until after the war. They must do everything possible to make their tires last for the duration.

The merchants of this town are trying to carry out this order to the best of their ability. But if one merchant, in his desire to serve his customers as well as possible, continues to carry on a "delivery as usual" service, others, who are making a greater effort to conserve their trucks, are in danger of having their business hurt.

In the last analysis, the conservation of store trucks lies in the hands of the housewives who trade with the stores. If all housewives would make an effort to carry all of the packages they can, to order for as many days as possible at a time when they want delivery service and to do their shopping with the idea of cutting down deliveries in mind, it will help necessary service to last longer.

Politically Speaking

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 1.—(UP)—The growing importance of penal institutions in the war effort is being recognized daily. The man behind prison bars is no longer a complete parasite on society.

Several hundred men from Folsom and San Quentin prisons have been permitted to go into harvest fields, under supervision. They have proved valuable in meeting the farm labor shortage and the experience has been beneficial to their morale and outlook on life. The experiment has been so successful that more and more prisoners will be used in this regard.

The prisoners were quick to shift their shops and crafts to manufacturing war goods. The skill and training of convicts covered every possible field. Their enthusiasm was boundless as they fretted over being handicapped in helping their nation at war. Both Warden Clyde Plummer of Folsom and Clint Duffy of San Quentin have encouraged war work.

One of the most ambitious plans proposed would mobilize 1000 or more men from the state's three prisons for all-year work in fighting and preventing forest fires and establishment of permanent forestry camps throughout the state. A comprehensive federal-state program has been mapped out and its ultimate success would require much planning and effort, but it is a step in the right direction.

Without being maudlin over the use of convicts, the fact remains that they are able-bodied workers, for the most part, and are anxious to redeem themselves. Under proper supervision and guarding, they can perform vital work and free other men for military and home defense duties.

As soon as the necessary red tape can be worked out, the state's old age pensioners will be able to add outside income to their maximum $40 monthly payments from the government. The state social welfare board has approved the new plan.

Each pensioner's case will be treated individually but it is shown that the combined income is necessary to meet living costs, the extra outside income will be allowed.

The basic payment of $40 will remain the same, $20 from the federal government, $10 by the state and $10 by the county. But elderly citizens will now be able to take the initiative and earn $10 or $15 per month in outside income instead of having it deducted from the pension.

The ranks of state legislators have not been fertile for sending men to congress. Since the primary law was passed, no member of the senate or assembly has ever been elected to congress while still a member of the state body.

The first to break the charm was Cecil King, state assemblyman from Los Angeles, who captured the congressional seat occupied by the late Lee Geyer. King was running in a large field of political unknowns and his well-known name turned the trick for both major party nominations in the recent primary.

Another legislator, Senator John Phillips of Riverside may prove to be the second in line. Phillips is in the 22nd congressional district formed from Riverside, Orange and Imperial counties.

He ran a strong race in the primary to get the republican nomination and is a slight favorite to defeat Supervisor N. E. West of Orange county, who lost a similar contest two years ago.

Phillips is one of the most capable legislators who has been in Sacramento service, respected alike by both parties. He is one of the finest speakers of the senate and was recently honored with the chairmanship of the Republican state convention.

Phillips is a holdover senator, having two more years in his term. Should he be sent to congress, a special election would be held and Assemblyman Nelson Dilworth would be the immediate favorite to win. Dilworth is a Republican from Hemet who won both nominations for reelection this year in a district which is identical to the senate district.

First Things Come First War Calls Must Go Through

A cherished tradition among telephone men and women is that "the message must go through."

War messages for the sake and safety of all of us must go through first.

The demands of War are placing a heavy load on our Long Distance lines.

It is impossible to build more switchboards and lines because materials such as copper must be used in making munitions and weapons.

You who use the telephone in these critical times can aid in getting War messages through promptly and in cutting down possible delays on your own essential calls if you will—

*Be brief—Plan what you want to say.
Make calls only that you find essential.
Place your calls by number and use station-to-station service.
Answer your telephone promptly.*

Your cooperation in these simple matters will make possible the maximum use of existing voice highways. Thank you for your help.

GUN THIEF GIVEN SENTENCE AT TAHOE

TAHOE CITY, Oct. 1.—Constable Harry Johanson Monday afternoon escorted Ralph Starr, 44, arrested by Deputy Sheriff N. F. Dolley in Truckee Saturday night, to Auburn. When deer season opened, he borrowed his employer's rifle but instead of going hunting he proceeded to Truckee where he disposed of the gun.

Tahoe Schools

TAHOE CITY, Oct. 1.—Thursday last, Arthur C. Ables, recently arrived at Tahoe to visit his family, was a guest speaker at Junior assembly at Tahoe Lake school. He gave the children an interesting insight into the islands and conditions which war time regulations have created. His talk was greatly enjoyed by the youngsters.

Mrs. June Dyer returned Tuesday from San Francisco where she bid goodbye to her husband, James Dyer who has entered the merchant marine service. She will continue teaching her classes the remainder of the session.

An concerted effort is being made by children and teachers alike at Tahoe Lake school to win the honor of flying the United States Treasury Flag an honor which is awarded the schools having a record of 90 per cent of the pupils purchasing a defense stamp a month.

Peter White suffered a broken arm last Tuesday and was taken to a Reno hospital where Dr. Louis Lombardi attended the injury. He returned to his classes Monday, the injured member now knitting satisfactorily.

For the entire week a drive for scrap iron will be conducted by all the children of Tahoe Lake school. Metals wanted include iron, steel, copper, brass, bronze, aluminum, lead zinc and rubber. No tin cans, paper or rope are wanted at this time.

On Tuesday boys of the high school group offered their services in gathering scrap metal now laying in piles about the district. They will assist Jay Schumacher in bringing in the metal from the Tahoma district and then proceed to Ernie Pomin's collected pile at Tahoe Pines.

*All America Knows
Budweiser...
but Few Know This*

THEY'VE PASSED THEIR 'PHYSICAL'-TOO

America's feathered and four-legged armies are very much on their toes these days. Yeast vitamins used in fortifying animal feeds have done wonders in recent years to better the quality and propagation of livestock and poultry. Did you know that the Home of Budweiser is America's biggest single source of these vitamins?

Year after year, we have striven with research and resources to better the methods and facilities for brewing Budweiser. To do this, a laboratory specializing in fermentation and nutrition was necessary. Discoveries made in the laboratory and in the plant have led to the development of products contributing to human necessity and progress. Some of these products would appear to have only a remote relationship to brewing, yet, they are the result of scientific research into many allied fields.

Endless research in making the world's leading beer has led to other products

VITAMINS, B COMPLEX—for manufacturers of pharmaceutical and food products. Our plant is one of the world's largest sources.

VITAMIN D—Anheuser-Busch produces enough of the basic material for Vitamin D to supply the entire American market.

BAKER'S YEAST—We are one of America's biggest suppliers of standard and enriched yeasts and malt syrup used to make bread.

CORN SYRUP—many millions of pounds annually for America's candy industry.

SYRUPS—for food, table and confectionary uses and special syrups for medicinal purposes.

STARCH—for food, textile, paper and other industries—millions of pounds annually.

REFRIGERATING EQUIPMENT—for retailers of frozen foods and ice cream the country over. This division is now working all-out on glider wing and fuselage assemblies for our Armed Forces.

DIESEL ENGINES—Adolphus Busch, founder of Anheuser-Busch, acquired the first rights to manufacture this revolutionary engine in America and thus started our great Diesel industry on its way.

Three boxes of books were taken to the south end of the lake where two boxes were given to the ladies of the Lake Valley Community Center for distribution, and reading this winter. One of the boxes featuring reading for children, was left at the Lake Valley school where Miss Marcelle Barkley, the teacher, will read them to her pupils.

TURKEY DINNER IS ENJOYED BY BIG GROUP AT TAHOE

TAHOE CITY, Oct. 1.— Ladies of the Tahoe Women's Club, despite the high costs of living, were hosts on Saturday night to members of their families at their annual turkey dinner party. Fifty or more guests were served a most delicious repast with President Mrs. Ruth Mayfield on hand to welcome them. A special table was arranged in the beautifully decorated hall for the president and her husband and for other members who were celebrating either birthdays or anniversaries. Among the honored guests were

Commandos Return From Dieppe Raid

Leaving behind the wreckage of many German military installations and a badly scared German garrison, tough British Commandos and American Rangers returned to their invasion barges to re-embark for their home port in England. The object of the raid was to test the German defenses on the French coast and to gain vital information. Pictured in this photo are members of the raiding party as they returned to their craft, carrying their wounded with them.

Mrs. Minnie Pomin and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Henry, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Valentine and Alice Brown. Bridge and pinocel were enjoyed following dinner with high scores being held by Mrs. J. G. Mackay of Auburn, Mrs. Harry Johanson, Mrs. George Hinkle, J. E. Pomin, Mrs. Henry Soll, Mrs. Gerda Kvistberg, Weller, Atherton, Mrs. A. M. Henry and Mrs. A. M. Anderson. Responsible for the success of the delightful affair were Chairman Mrs. W. A. Simmonds and her assistants, Mrs. Noral Hevel, Mrs. Elizabeth Worden, Mrs. C. O. Valentine and Mrs. Mayfield, the president.

and Mrs. Al Henry, Jr., of Sacramento, Mrs. Gilbert Donaldson and son David and Miss Laverne McDonald all of Oakland and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Weyhe of Santa Rosa. A dinner party held at the Henrys Sunday was given to honor Mrs. Jean Henry whose birthday fell on September 25 and for Joe Henry who celebrated his natal day September 26.

Miss Pat Henry left Tuesday for the bay region where she will combine a part time position with continuance of her special studies at the University of California.

More buck continue to return to Tahoe with successful hunters, the latest among these being Stanley Martin of Tahoe City. His was a 137-pound three pointer shot in the region above Ward Creek Saturday.

Mrs. Emma Wallace, wife of Bob Wallace, highway foreman at Tahoe, accompanied her husband on a hunting trip last Thursday and today is about the proudest woman in the lake area. For a lucky and well directed shot brought down a beautiful muletail which dressed above 17 pounds and sported four points on one side and five on the other. Page Meadows was the scene of his demise. Her husband will be endeavoring for the balance of the season to top her achievement.

Fred Werner, Newcastle rancher, who with his wife and son, Fred, Jr., has been spending a vacation at the family's Lake Forest home, had a unique experience Wednesday. After hiking over hill and dale for an entire day in search of the elusive buck, he returned empty handed only to find a fine fat forked horn in his own yard waiting for him to shoot. He promptly did so. His son Fred on the previous Friday shot a forked horn in the district west of the Truckee river.

From the south end of the lake comes word of successful hunting. Among them are Norman Cello, Sr., and Norman Cello, Jr., Charles Young of Bijou, Howard Tansen and Joe Rochelle of Piedmont who owns a home in the district. The latter got his 150 pound forked horn in the Lake Angora region. Allan Ross, a guide at Richardsons reported that 20 deer were brought down in the Hell Hole region the first week of the season as compared with 15 for the season previous.

Jimmie Swanson of the Sunnyside district is perhaps the first young hunter to get his limit for the season. Jim, who is 15, got a 125 pound forked horn Saturday in the Big Chief region, bringing his total up to two. Another successful hunting party was composed of Al Henry, Joe Henry, Earl Weyhe of Santa Rosa and David Donaldson of Oakland, the group bringing in two bucks weighing over 100 pounds each, their horns still in the velvet.

SUCCESSFUL PARENTHOOD

By MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

A DYNAMIC MORAL CODE

It seems to me that young people today have an increased respect for a moral code in regard to relations between the sexes. Although their conversation may sometimes be alarmingly frank there is a quality of decency and wholesomeness about them which is very reassuring. Moreover they do not wait for the older generation to censure those of their number who are lax in morals—the latter simply don't rate with the crowd. In other words, it is no longer considered smart to be either a "wolf" or a girl of wobbly principles.

However, girls have always had to face, and probably always will, some disparity between conduct which they were taught was proper and conduct which the more daring of their friends appear to be getting away with. How can you prepare them for this? By helping them to understand that the good time earned at the expense of morals is always a "second best." No young person wants to compromise—YOUTH has a natural scorn for "second bests." But most of their mistakes come from grabbing at life because they are afraid they will miss out. If age could only pass on to Youth one bit of knowledge—that most of us, eventually, get what we really want in life—perhaps they could be helped to recognize and pass up the "second bests" which crowd us when we are young.

Much of the fault lies in our teaching—we dwell on the penalties of not living up to the moral code when on every side, in fiction and the movies, sometimes in the lives of their friends, they see evidence that these penalties aren't always exacted. What they can't see is the inner emptiness of those who dissipate their emotions. Because, religion aside, the value of morals is that they help us to preserve personal integrity, they keep us all in one piece, to paraphrase the psychologists.

But if we would present the moral code to young people as a dynamic thing, not as something which denies them good times but as something which builds their capacity for happiness, we give it meaning. For every new appreciation, every deepening of their understanding of others will enable them to hold love more securely when they find it. Or if tragedy or circumstances withhold love, they will still have acquired mental and emotional strength which will make them mature persons assured of being useful and of having friends and affection.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of the total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: None.

4. That the two paragraphs above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

NEW JAIL AT TAHOE STARTED THIS WEEK

TAHOE CITY, Sept. 24.—The new jail for which Tahoe City residents have waited so long was at last started Monday. Contractor N. R. Mayfield is erecting the building and declared that only the outer shell would be completed at this time, with no plumbing or wiring. Windows may be installed next year.

The site of the building is at the foot of the bank north of the Tahoe Community building and will not when completed be unsightly to the main highway traffic.

California's plight in the proposed rationing program is reminiscent of the shipwrecked sailor who found water all around him but not a drop to drink.

Gasoline Sales Drop 15 Per Cent, Records Show

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 1.—(UP)—Consumption of taxable gasoline continued to reflect war-time restrictions placed on the use of motor vehicles throughout California, Chairman R. E. Collins of the state board of equalization reported.

The tax, based on August distribution of 164,044,127 gallons of gasoline, amounted to $4,931,323.83, a decrease of $893,859.66, or 15 per cent as compared to the same month of the previous year.

August income from this source was comparable to the $4,920,237.06 assessed for July.

August sales brought the total tax for the year up to $38,536,717.44 or nearly eight per cent below that of the same eight-month period of 1941, board records revealed.

Their Fighting Days Are Over

A Prison Camp in the Desert . . . Italian prisoners of war captured in the El Alamein area are shown being led into their "cage" by a British guard. These men and many more were captured when the British forces, aided by U. S. planes and pilots, doubled back and cut their lines during the heavy fighting around El Alamein.

Right Motives and Aims

HUMAN thought and endeavor are constantly tending toward a goal. No sooner is an objective attained than another is pursued. In the struggle for attainment, moral mercury is tested, and it rises or falls according to the purpose and motive of the individual. Strife which has as its goal personal power, personal advantage, personal success, is engendered in the frigid zone of selfishness and sends the moral mercury downward, whereas strife for the betterment of humanity, in which one's own good is allied with that of every other individual, is begotten of a heart that glows with the sunshine of unselfed love, where the moral mercury tends ever upward.

Human experience is beset with temptation, and each one must decide for himself whether he will serve God or mammon. "No man can serve two masters," declared Christ Jesus: "for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other" (Matthew 6:24). When Moses undertook to lead the children of Israel out of Egyptian bondage, he found it necessary in the perilous journey through the wilderness to establish a strict moral code as a standard for thought and action, and he received from God the divinely inspired Decalogue, or the Ten Commandments. This code admits of no divided allegiance. It calls for unqualified love for God and man. "Half-love," said the poet, "will not bide the storm." He whose purpose is to conform his life to the Sinaitic pattern will emerge from every conquest of error stronger and better equipped for the service of God and humanity, whereas selfishness weakens moral stamina and undermines the capacity for true service. Greed, fear, pride, and willfulness thrive in the soil of selfish ambition, while selfless service yields in ever-increasing abundance the fruits of righteousness—confidence, courage, steadfastness, joy, love, and allied virtues, which reflect divine Mind.

Selfish pursuits have only human will for their sanction and support. Therefore their limited achievements fail of permanent good. True service, service for the spiritual betterment of mankind, has divine authority, for God is Love. God's purpose and plan for His children are always good. His blessings are universal and impartial. Hence any endeavor which is based on a desire to do the greatest good to the greatest number is sanctioned by divine Love and supported by omnipotence. It therefore cannot fail of fruition. When one's effort is aligned with God's purpose, true success is sure.

In proportion to the selflessness of motive and purpose are the fruits of labor enriched and the opportunities for serving increased. "Right motives give pinions to thought, and strength and freedom to speech and action," writes Mary Baker Eddy on page 454 of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." The worker whose motive is right, because it is based on divine Principle, need never fear a lack of ability to perform the task which God leads him to do. Patience and humility will attain the mental and moral stature commensurate for the occasion. Likewise one whose motive is God-inspired never lacks opportunity for service. True service always finds expression, whether it takes the form of a simple smile or the lifting of a heavy burden. The man whose chief desire is to serve God and humanity stands before an open door which neither age nor circumstance can close. Imbued with the love which reflects divine Love, such a one shrinks not from responsibility; and, supported by an unfolding understanding of the omnipotence, omniscience, and omnipresence of God, divine Mind, he is not weakened by fear, hindered by pride, or hardened by failure. Spiritual confidence and courage are his to strengthen his steps and steady his hand for the performance of whatever task is before him. He acknowledges no handicap, accepts no permanent defeat. Obstacles and trials only sharpen the edge of endeavor, and from defeat he learns the way to win the victory over error through gaining a higher understanding of God, divine Principle.

Human history shows that those who have accomplished most of lasting good are those who have loved God and reflected Him in their thinking and living. And so it will ever be, for Love is God.

'K. P.' in Desert

The not so cryptic letters "K.P." mean kitchen police, and they mean it the whole world over, wherever American fighters chance to be. Every soldier who has drawn K.P. can sympathize with the appalled expression of Pvt. Paul Newlin, of Marengo, Ind., as he contemplates the stack of dishes awaiting his services in the desert training center, California.

Health Clinic Scheduled For Children At Tahoe

TAHOE CITY, Oct. 1.—Because of health hazards accompanying war activities, the public health authorities urge immunization against diphtheria and small pox at this time. Through the combined assistance of the California Department of Public Health, Placer County Medical Association and the Public County schools, this service is offered to the school and pre-school children at a charge of only 25 cents per child.

All children over nine months of age who have not been successfully vaccinated within the last three years should be vaccinated, authorities say.

All children not in school should be brought in with the school children for vaccination the first meeting date.

For diphtheria toxoid, the first dose on October 2, second meeting date one month later—second dose diphtheria toxoid October 30 with the third meeting date one week later. Read and dress vaccinations on November 6.

Join the parade, and help top the War Bond Quota in your county. U.S. Treasury Department

Tahoe Schools

Sam Cohn, deputy superintendent of public instruction addressed the children of the upper elementary grades recently on the subject of "Courage." Dr. Frank B. Lindsay, assistant chairman of the division of secondary education presented to the general session the topic "How our Schools are Meeting the War Needs."

Last week the primary and intermediary grades were guests of Mrs. A. M. Henry at her Tahoe City home. Mrs. Henry entertained them with stories of her two years experiences in Mexico, displaying also an interesting array of souvenirs gathered while there. Refreshments were served following her talk.

Tahoe Lake School's four teachers, Mrs. Myrtle Gallinger, Mrs. Bliss Hinkle, Mrs. June Dyer and Jay Schumacher attended the Teachers' Institute held recently in Auburn.

Stress was laid this year upon the teaching of real, down to earth fundamentals, since army and navy tests are disclosing the lack of knowledge of the commoner facts among groups of the more educated youths of today. Wayne and Darlo Bosen, formerly of Clinton, Minnesota, have enrolled in the upper grades.

The Junior Red Cross of the Tahoe Lake school netted $23.50 from the sale of tickets, donations and the flower show held recently. The money will be spent in part to fill Christmas boxes and for the purchase of a new loom, the old one having failed to operate efficiently.

On exhibition this week in the main school library have been specimen of wood and coral from Midway and Hawaii loaned to the school by Fred Cowell, former Tahoe resident, who spent months there doing construction work for the government. Also shown were 40 knots made by the sailors and construction workers on the islands.

House and Home

By MARY E. DAGUE
Author of Sister Mary's Kitchen.

Few of us realize the annual estimated waste that has been found in the American home.

Two billion pounds of kitchen fats, 10,000 tons of tin and 1,000,000 tons of scrap steel seem like appalling figures for the accumulated "junk" around the house. But the real significance of these figures lies in the fact that these materials can be utilized in making essential war materials.

Consequently the bureau of industrial conservation of the War Production board has established various types of salvage programs.

Our country is counting on us—American housewives—to do our utmost in this vital war program of salvaging. It's a worthwhile contribution that we can make towards winning the war.

Tin cans and kitchen fats require special care in their preparation. Wash cans thoroughly after emptying and remove paper labels. Cans with painted-on labels should not be saved.

After opening top of can and emptying contents and washing out the bottom of the can. Put both top and bottom inside of can. Lots of housekeepers who live in apartments always have done this to empty cans.

Flatten cans by stepping on them. Do not flatten by hammering. Leave enough space between flattened sides to see through.

Cans prepared this way are easy to store and take up very little room. Keep them in a box separate from other trash until you dispose of them.

Millions of pounds of glycerine are needed for our war effort and much of this must come from the kitchen.

Save all cooking fats—pan drippings from all kinds of roasts, broiler drippings from steaks and chops and bacon and deep fats from doughnuts and other deep-fat fried foods. Save vegetable fats as well as lard.

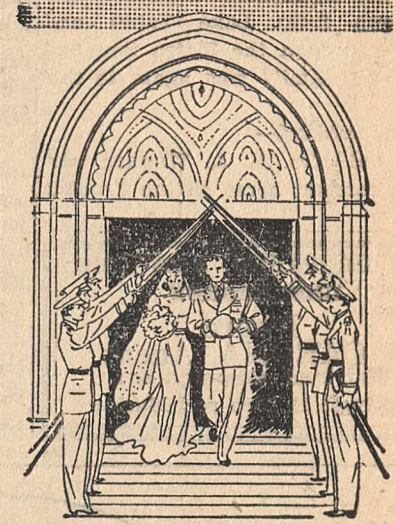

When all cooking good has been obtained from the fats pour through a strainer into a wide-mouthed can such as a coffee can. Be sure that the can is spotlessly clean. Don't use glass, paper or cardboard containers and don't ask to have the can returned to you.

Keep in the refrigerator or in a cool, dark place until at least one pound has been collected.

Take the fat to a meat dealer who is co-operating in this drive. He will weigh your can of fat, pay you the established price for it and start it on its way to the war industries. Avoid taking the fat to your butcher on week-ends. Help him by disposing of your fat during the week.

Plans for painting the floor of the auditorium are progressing nicely. Nearly $10 of the $30 needed has come in unsolicited. Our policy is "pay as you go" and we know that every one will want to have a part in the church repair program. Give or send contributions to Mrs. George Kamp, treasurer. Our community church will be just what we help to make it. One of America's greatest needs is the spiritual fortification of the church.

H. & W. CLUB WILL DISCONTINUE MEETS

The H and W Philanthropic Club of Meeks Bay held the last regular meeting Monday evening. After a bounteous dinner, prepared by Violet Garner, a short business session was held and the club members voted to clear the club of all indebtedness and also to discontinue the meetings for the winter months.

Lovely gifts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Heller by Mrs. Garner as representative of the Pythian Sisters. Mr. and Mrs. Heller are leaving at once for the winter.

Approximately 35 new members were accepted into the club and they hope to have that many more. Dues are to be only $1 a year starting on January 1.

All members regret the necessity of discontinuing the meetings, but owing to the rubber situation and the absence of so many members it was thought best.

GASOLINE RATIONING SLATED FOR NOV. 22

Price Administrator Leon Henderson in Washington has announced gasoline rationing on a national basis will be effective about November 22 with a basic rationing of slightly less than four gallons per week.

The system to be used is being patterned after the form now followed in eastern states, which provides for occupational users, etc.

At the same time it was announced that the national speed limit on the highways would be cut to 35 miles an hour. California patrolmen have received instructions to enforce the rule pending action of the state legislature in January which may create a new law abolishing the old 55-mile limit.

Tires will be checked every 60 days following the rationing of gasoline.

Cooperation of Hunters Fighting Fires Cited By Forest Service

Cooperation of the hunters in aiding the forest service in fire control and suppression is shown in the following press dispatch from the Tahoe National Forest headquarters in Nevada City:

NEVADA CITY, Oct. 1. Deer hunters were secured recently in the Truckee area to assist in fighting the Boca Quarry fire which was quickly controlled with their aid.

"The hunters were pressed into service due to a shortage of manpower in the area," reports Supervisor Ellis of the Tahoe National Forest. "Without the aid of these men the fire would in all probability have been much larger and more costly to control."

Nearly all the hunters pressed into service held forest service fire prevention volunteer cards and were more than glad to assist in controlling the fire.

"The forest service deeply appreciates such cooperation," Ellis said, "and hopes to contact more and more people with the fire prevention pledge cards to help reduce man caused fires."
